LEARN THE STRUCTURE, THEN THE LINE

A four-pass method for a theory-heavy opening

1. DECODE THE POSITION

Read the board before the moves. Name the center, each side's break, the worst piece, the king-safety difference, and the race clock.

2. UNDERSTAND THE CAUSAL CHAIN

Every recommendation connects a cue to a reason and a consequence. If you know only the move, you do not yet know the opening.

3. PLAY THE DECISION

Generate candidates for the side to move, identify the opponent's strongest resource, and choose the resulting structure you can explain. The move is the end of the reasoning, not the beginning.

4. RETRIEVE UNDER PRESSURE

Cover the answer key, reconstruct the line, and speak the memory rule. Review after 1, 3, 7, 14, and 30 days, then test the idea in a slow game.

THEORY WARNING

This is a durable concept-first repertoire, not a claim to be a live engine database. Before tournament use, verify sharp forcing branches in Fritz or a current database.

Priority order at the board: legality and tactical survival, king safety, forcing moves, central transformation, activity, structure, then the remembered rule.

You will understand the Marshall as long-term initiative for a pawn and learn the defensive exchanges that matter most.

DECODE PASS | STRUCTURAL DECISION POINT

Decode: The central pawn sacrifice

WHY THIS POSITION MATTERS

...d5 gives a pawn to open diagonals, accelerate development, and pull White's pieces away from king defense.

DECISION RULE

After accepting the pawn, which black piece enters with tempo and which defensive piece can White trade?

SIDE TO MOVE

White

BLACK'S RESOURCES

Use the lead in activity, bishop pair, and queen entry squares before White consolidates the extra pawn.

WHITE'S RESOURCES

White returns material or exchanges attackers, giving priority to king safety over keeping every pawn.

MEMORY RULE | The Marshall pawn buys time and lines; spend both immediately.

CUE -> REASON -> MOVE -> REPLY -> NEW POSITION

The plan map

CUE

...d5 gives a pawn to open diagonals, accelerate development, and pull White's pieces away from king defense.

BLACK'S PLAN

Use the lead in activity, bishop pair, and queen entry squares before White consolidates the extra pawn.

FINAL SIDE TO MOVE

White

WHITE'S PLAN

White returns material or exchanges attackers, giving priority to king safety over keeping every pawn.

FAILURE MODE

Black drifting after the sacrifice or White greedily defending material while lines open around the king.

DECISION TEST

Ask: After accepting the pawn, which black piece enters with tempo and which defensive piece can White trade? Then compare at least two candidates against the opponent's strongest forcing reply. Choose the endpoint whose center, king safety, and piece jobs you can explain.

RULE | The Marshall pawn buys time and lines; spend both immediately.

TWELVE-WEEK CYCLE

Weeks 1-2: decode the three structures. Weeks 3-4: replay all lines from memory. Weeks 5-7: solve the workbook pages. Weeks 8-10: test in slow games or against Fritz. Weeks 11-12: analyze failures and retest the volume examination.

PROMOTION RULE

Advance only when you can explain every memory rule, reproduce the three reference lines, name both sides' strongest plans, and show at least one analyzed game where the decision appeared.

Do not measure mastery by pages completed. Measure whether the correct questions appear during a real game.
